

Disclaimer

Although we try our best to make sure your pets are comfortable at all times while performing our services, the nature of dealing with live fish, as with all animals is unpredictable. As a result, it is possible that some aquatic animals may perish during transfer to or from a tank, aquarium, terrarium, or bowl to a temporary container, and back again. As we are a full-service venture, we have no objections to transferring your live animals, however, in the event that particularly valuable, dangerous, or prized pet is to be transferred from its home container to a temporary container for service purposes, it is recommended that the owners do so on their own.

If you have a dangerous animal (ie; poisonous) and do not wish to handle it yourself, please make sure we are aware of the risk before your appointment.

Freshwater, Saltwater, Reefs,
Terarriums and Ponds

Who We Are

The idea for All Clear Aquarium Services began with Alan Perry and Kathleen Petrovic who happen to love aquatic animals. They discovered there are many people who share their passion but lack the time to maintain healthy conditions and visually-appealing aquaria. Maintenance cannot be ignored without inviting tragedy. Water conditions can deteriorate rapidly once an imbalance occurs. Regular maintenance also ensures that disease problems are noticed so they can be avoided or corrected quickly.

The solution is to contract this service to experts who understand what is involved in maintaining correct water chemistry and have the equipment to maintain these environments in pristine condition.

Alan's interest in the care and maintenance of aquatic environments has grown since he was seven years old. He housed his first collection of 50 fish in four tanks ranging from 2.5 gallons to 20 gallons. His expertise has been built over a lifetime maintaining aquaria. Currently, in addition to maintaining large and small tanks for clients of All Clear Aquarium Services, he maintains his own fish tanks and reptile terrariums.

Adding an aquarium to an office or home provides beautiful and unusual indoor scenery. Many people enjoy the calming effects watching fish and people also benefit from the increased humidity that an operating tank provides. The only down-side is the time required to maintain a sparkling display. Why not contract that to experts who enjoy the work?

Our number is easy to remember:

614-TANK (8265)

Services Offered

Basic service ..... $40.00/hr
Involves cleaning all glass surfaces inside and outside the container, removing plants (if possible), cleaning plastic or silk plants, cleaning bedding medium (gravel), cleaning filter, and cleaning or changing filtration medium as necessary, testing and balancing water (materials & chemicals extra)

Two-week Partial Water Change ...$40.00/hr
Involves partial servicing of pet(s) container, roughly 10% to 25% of water is removed and replaced with fresh water, filter medium is checked and either replaced or cleaned as necessary, water test & balance (materials & chemicals extra)

Filter Clean ..... $40.00/hr
Involves cleaning and servicing filtration unit(s) (materials and chemicals extra) (minimum 1 hr charge).

New Aquarium Set-up ..... $40.00/hr
We will come to your home and set up any new or existing aquarium equipment you may have, fill the tank using household water, and condition the water to accept new pets. This is usually an extended process that may involve several visits to ensure a proper environment for your pet(s) as cycling water usually requires 6 to 9 weeks (materials and chemicals extra).

Water Testing Call-Out ..... $20.00
Water testing call-outs are for water testing only and are usually included in other services (chemicals extra).

A-la-Carte Service ..... by quotation
This may involve picking-up and establishing new pets in your habitat, repairing leaks, disassembling equipment & removing pets, administering medications to tanks... etc. If you have something you want done – call and ask if we can do it!

There is a 1 hour minimum charge. Emergency/After hours services are available at a $50.00 callout surcharge in addition to regular rates. Aquarium cleaning and servicing times may vary depending upon ease of access to equipment, and size and shape of equipment. The average hobby aquarium takes 1-4 hours to service. If you have your own cleaning equipment and aquarium supplies, the materials and chemical surcharges may not apply. Material and chemical charges may vary according to the type and quantities used to service your personal pet habitat.
